Eradication of Tuberculosis Is Urged by Representatives of South Omaha Interests.

Lincoln, Jan. 29.—(Special)—Huge pieces of tubercular pork and beef were displayed in the rear of the house lobby today by representatives of South Omaha packers.

In the last year more than 250,000 cattle have been tested in Nebraska for tuberculosis.

In 1916, 869,425 cattle were slaughtered in Omaha yards and 14,066 proved to have tubercular lesions, or 1.61 per cent.

In 1922 since tuberculosis tests have been made, there were 775,359 cattle slaughtered in 11 months and 7,355, or .94 per cent, showed tubercular lesions.

Tuberculosis is a specific, infectious disease, is not hereditary, is easily controlled and with proper support in the next five years, tuberculosis in food producing animals in Nebraska can be eliminated to a degree where it will not be an economic problem or a serious menace to public health.

Dr. Grant Faces Heresy Trial

One of the most sensational heresy trials ever held in America faces Rev. Percy Stickney Grant, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Fifth Avenue, New York city, as a result of his refusal to recant his statement that Christ could not be held equal to God and to accept the faith of the church as set forth in the Apostles' Creed.

Wall Street Is Blamed by Rector for Dispute

While Dr. Grant Preaches, Gotham Rector Is Attacked by Omaha Pastors, Who Say He Is Preaching but Another "Ism."

New York, Jan. 29.—(By A. P.)—Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, under fire for alleged heretical utterances, charged in his sermon at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension Sunday that the fight against him was inspired by capitalist interests working "under the surface," rather than by any true religious zeal to purge the church of apostates.

While a delegation of placarded hobo recruits from Bowery lodging houses and park benches by Urban Ledoux, the "Mr. Zero" of others witters of spectacular championing of the unemployed, marched up and down before the church, Dr. Grant preached another sermon in which he hinted neither at resigning or re-acting his expressed views concerning the divinity of Jesus and certain dogmas of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Attack Not Personal. Dr. Grant's sermon contained a passing remark concerning his engagement to Mrs. Rita DeAcosta Lydig, who was the wife of William E. D. Stokes and after divorcing him married Capt. Philip Lydig, from whom she was also divorced in France.

The Episcopal church forbids the remarriage of a divorced person, even the innocent one, where the grounds for divorce are not infidelity. For two years Dr. Grant has been engaged to Mrs. Lydig but Bishop Manning has forbidden the marriage.

Denies Personal Motive. The rector undertook to dispel this belief, in the course of his sermon, based on the text, "Beneath the Surface," by saying, "There is another statement that was made: That my point of view or attitude is governed by a certain personal relationship. That is denied by the fact that I am saying just what I have said for nearly 40 years. Certainly I cannot be accused of saying special things today on account of any relationship which, fortunately for the other person involved, is not of 40 years standing."

Mrs. Lydig, beautiful and charmingly attired, sat in a front pew throughout the sermon and heard these words, and hundreds of eyes were turned toward her, looking for some sign of recognition between the clergyman and the woman he loves but cannot marry without violating laws of his church.

Church Goes On. "The church has been assailed in all ages, but its assailants are dead and forgotten. The church goes on." Rev. Ralph E. Bailey at the First Unitarian church of Omaha Sunday, speaking on "The Case of Dr. Grant," maintained that the views of Dr. Percy S. Grant expressed in his sermon in the Church of the Ascension, New York city, are not a repudiation of Christianity, and are completely vindicated, justified and sustained by the acknowledged authoritative synoptic gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke.

Rev. Mr. Bailey based his defense of Dr. Grant upon the first three gospels as the truest historical account of the founder of Christianity, and quoted the words of Jesus to show that he did not claim deity.

Bryan Is Silent on Appointments

Nominations Must Be Sent to Senate by 20th Day of Session.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 29.—(Special)—No announcement has been made by Governor Bryan as to whom he intends to appoint to the state normal board, succeeding E. H. Garhart of Newman Grove and Miss Etta Young of Omaha, whose terms expire shortly.

His nominations must be sent to the senate for confirmation by the twentieth day of the session. The governor must also announce an appointment for the board of control within the next few days.

Governor Bryan said today he had received expressions from several state bankers commending his attitude regarding amendments to the state guaranty law. He suggested for the consideration of the committee in charge of the bankers' bill that the appointment of receivers for failed banks be vested in the state banking department instead of a commission of bankers.

State Representatives Reynolds and Axtell of Lincoln county called on Governor Bryan to present a request of North Platte citizens that the $10,000 appropriated two years ago for a fish hatchery in Lincoln or Garden be expended for that purpose out of the hunting and fishing license revenues. The governor said he could not take up the matter until after his legislative program is completed.
